Col. Burdick Collapses at Millwood Meet

WASHINGTON (Special) — Col. Roy D. Burdick, spokesman for the Dierkes Lumber and Coal Co. which is opposing construction of the Millwood Dam on Little River, suffered an attack and collapsed shortly after 1 p. m. today at a hearing on the project in Washington, D. C.

Col. Burdick, appearing for the opposition, was reading a paper against the project when he apparently suffered a stroke. Louis Graves, publisher of the Nashville News had to finish the paper. Col. Burdick collapsed shortly thereafter and was taken to Walter Reed Hospital for treatment.

The hearing was before the Civil Functions Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations committee. On the subcommittee were Sen. Henry Dworshak, R. Idaho, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., Sen. Guy Cordon, R. Ore., Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D. La., and Sen. Hayden, D. Arizona.

Sitting in were Senators Russell Long of Louisiana and Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniels of Texas and Rep. Oren Harris of Arkansas.

Also represented were members of the Red River Valley Association, Mayors Haskel C. Hay of Texarkana, Arkansas, Mayor Carroll Shiffert of Texarkana, Tex., Charles Wine of Texarkana, and Hershel Hanner of Atlanta, Texas, A. H. Washburn, Hope newspaper publisher and former member of the city board of public affairs, and Kenneth Ambrose, President of Hope Chamber of Commerce.

Appearing for the opposition were Mr. Graves, Col. Burdick and Peter George, executive of the Dierkes Lumber and Coal Company.

The Red River Valley association asked for a million dollars to start work on Ferrell's Bridge in the Marshall, Jefferson and Daingerfield, Texas area. The minimum needed is $650,000 but the budget bureau has set up only $305,000 for the work. This issue was debated at length by Sen. Condon and Roy Sussams, Louisiana Department of Public Works. The Ferrell's Bridge job has priority being further along than the Millwood project.

The association also asked for $250,000 for a project report on Millwood-blueprints, specifications etc. These plans will call for an extra foot of water in Millwood reservoir for water rights for surrounding towns, and cities, the specific purpose for which the Hope men went to the hearing.

Estimate cost of Millwood is $65 million while three alternate smaller dams, which the Dierkes Company favors, will cost an estimated $80 million. However, the opposition declared the Millwood dam estimate did not cover compensation for all the land and the Millway in the area which group decided to await a complete report.

Mr. Washburn telephoned the Star shortly after noon today and indicated that following the hearing he felt the Millwood project would go through as scheduled with an appropriation for final blueprints this year and possibly actual construction money forthcoming next year.

Pipefitters Return to Stamps Plant

STAMPS, (A) — A bout 70 union pipefitters who walked out at the construction site of a 135,000-watt generator plant in protest of non-union truckers hauling pipe onto the project have returned to work.

The pipefitters staged the walk-out Feb. 5. There was no picketing. There were no details disclosed of the agreement reached yesterday.

W. M. Wolford, construction superintendent for Ebasco Services Inc., which is building the generator for the Arkansas Power and Light Co., said construction was delayed during the dispute. He added, however, some 280 other employees continued to work during the walkout.

Only U. S. Court Can Save Jenkins

LITTLE ROCK (A) — Only the U. S. Supreme Court now appears able to save slayer Bill Jenkins from Arkansas' electric chair.

The Arkansas Supreme Court yesterday refused again to consider the Jenkins case.

Jenkins' attorneys Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs and Wendell O. Epperson announced immediately after the Arkansas Supreme Court decision that they will fly to Washington to present the case before the nation's highest tribunal.

Corporation Tax Continuance Is Voted by Group

WASHINGTON (A) — The House Ways and Means Committee voted 22-2 today to continue the present corporation income tax for one more year, and wipe out a two billion dollar reduction scheduled automatically under present law for April 1.

Only two Democrats — Reps. Mills of Arkansas and Greogry of Kentucky—voted against the move strongly urged by President Eisenhower.

The committee decided to put the corporate rate into a general 800-page bill overhauling almost all of the nation's tax laws.

At the same time it decided to take up tomorrow the question of excise tax rates.

Under present law, a number of cuts are scheduled April 1 in the excise rates sometimes called sales taxes.

The top corporation income tax rate, now 52 per cent, is scheduled to drop automatically to 47 per cent April 1. President Eisenhower has urged a one-year extension of the present rate to help reduce the federal deficit.

At one time the President's proposal had stirred strong opposition including promises of a fight by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.), Ways and Means chairman. Also, there was widespread talk of a compromise at a 50 per cent corporation income tax rate.

Committee members said much of the opposition has melted however, because of other tax cuts in effect or planned this year, notably business benefits provided in the general tax revision measure. If approved by the House and Senate it would reduce revenues from individuals and business by about $1,300,000,000 the first year and more later chiefly through more liberal deductions.

Puerto Rico Accused in Rice Pricing

LITTLE ROCK — (UP) Gov. Francis Cherry today charged that the government of Puerto Rico discriminated against Arkansas rice exports by unequal pricing of two varieties of rice.

Cherry said the Puerto Rican government topped the ceiling price on pearly rice permitting a larger profit margin, while retaining a lower price on zenith rice, the type grown extensively in Arkansas.

Puerto Rican dealers, said Cherry won't handle the zenith variety because of the difference in profit margin.

Cherry, in a letter of protest to the Puerto Rican government said a considerable quantity of Puerto Rican goods were consumed in Arkansas "with no discrimination involved," he said:

"We feel that the products of our state should have reciprocal treatment in Puerto Rico and I urge you to end this discrimination by raising the price of zenith to the same level as that of pearly rice."

Snow Falling in Northwest Arkansas

By The Associated Press
Snow fell in northwest Arkansas early today as the rest of the state prepared for a new cold wave.

Today forecasts called for temperatures ranging 15-23 degrees in the northwest to 22-32 in the southeast.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock also forecast freezing rain for the southern portion of the state tonight with rain changing to snow expected in the northern portion.

Snow began falling about 8 a. m. in Fayetteville but disappeared almost as fast as it struck the ground. Snow also was reported at Springdale and Gilbert with rain recorded at Fort Smith, Ozark, Clarksville, Little Rock, Hot Springs and Morrilton.

Dr. Victor Watts head of the University of Arkansas Horticulture Department said that if the temperatures fell to 15 degrees in the northwest, it would damage that section's peach crop.

He said the peach buds already had started to swell but that apples and grapes probably would escape extensive damage.

Temperatures in the state early this morning were comparatively mild with only three stations reporting freezing or below. Gilbert and Batesville reported 31 degrees and Newport, 32 degrees. Readings elsewhere ranged from the mid to high 30s to the low 40s.

The cold wave is not expected to envelop the state until late this afternoon or tonight, the bureau said.

INJURIES FATAL

NEWPORT (A) Jarfajway W. White, 35 of Weimor died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered in a car-train collision in downtown Newport Feb. 20.

White was pinned inside the car; two other passengers of the car were thrown clear.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

ing—the Kentucky Derby day, so to speak, of cock fighting among other pastimes. Church bells summoned one and all not to worship but to winning and dining and there was even a song about it:

"But hark, hear the pancake bell

And fritters make a gallant meal;
The cooks are baking, rying, broiling,
"Stewing mincing, cutting
"Carving gormandizing roasting
"Carbonading, cracking, slash-

I don't know who made up that happy catalogue of cooking noises but he could name his own salary as a writer of television commercials today.

France still makes much of the called "Pancake Tuesday," it was a day of general merry-making.

U.S. Agents Look for Red Link in Puerto Rican Attack on House

Won't Go Along With Attacks of McCarthy

By HERBERT FOSS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today at the White House that he could not "go along" with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) when the senator attacks Army generals who are fighting communism.

Hall made the comment after a conference with President Eisenhower. He calls on Mr. Eisenhower at fairly frequent intervals to discuss political matters. He told reporters frankly today that he came in to discuss "the so-called McCarthy situation."

The chairman said he thought the "situation" tended to before the true purposes of the Eisenhower program as far as the public was concerned.

Asked whether he thought McCarthy is still a Republican asset as he had said recently, Hall answered: "I don't like the situation as it developed last week."

"My feelings are that while Joe is fighting communism we all go along," Hall said, "but when he begins to attack persons who are fighting communism just as conscientiously as he is I can't go along with him."

Hall obviously referred to the current dispute between McCarthy and Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens over the Wisconsin, Republican's treatment of Army witnesses before his investigating subcommittee.

Asked to elaborate on his objections to McCarthy's recent brush with the Army, Hall said "I don't think anyone would say that the generals in our Army are not fighting communism."

He declined to commit the President in the matter nor would he forecast what Mr. Eisenhower might have to say about the McCarthy-Stevens dispute at his news conference tomorrow.

The American Red Cross drive was officially opened in Hempstead this morning with a coffee and doughnut breakfast at Hotel Barlow.

Jack Lowe, chairman of the campaign, presided. Mr. Lowe told the group that Arkansas has been receiving much more than contributed due to tornadoes which have hit the state in recent years.

Earl Kuehner, public information director for the Midwest, outlined the various ways a dollar contribution to the Red Cross is spent.

Hempstead's membership goal is 2,300 and the fund goal is $5,000. Officials told workers to remind contributors that they could look at their membership card when they read of disasters and realize they have a part in helping people who need help.

Police Guard Everything in Washington

By MRRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Swarms of police and plain clothes men spread through the city today to protect members of Congress, President Eisenhower and the cabinet from possible new attacks by armed Puerto Rican terrorists.

Congress met under a heavily reinforced police guard. Visitors were banned from House and Senate galleries unless they submit admission cards signed by a member of Congress.

In the wake of the wild gun attack on House members by Puerto Rican Nationalists yesterday, extra security measures were extended dramatically throughout the capital.

Secret Service and White House police protection of Mr. Eisenhower was tightened, even though it's never relaxed. S. S. men resumed a wartime station at the main gate of the White House. The White House uniformed police in the entry booths around the executive mansion was alerted for the possibility that other Puerto Rican gunmen might be in the capital area.

Special police guards were placed at the homes of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson and Interior Secretary Douglas McKay. Because of yesterday's shooting, Benson cancelled a flight to the Virgin Islands today because, according to an aide, his presence might "strain their security guard down there." Benson and McKay are directors of the Virgin Islands Corp.

Officers Guard Against New Terrorist Acts

By JAMES F. DONOVAN

WASHINGTON (UP) — Government agents searched for a possible Communist link today as they launched a sweeping investigation into yesterday's Puerto Rican Nationalist attack in the House of Representatives.

The FBI, Justice Department, subversive experts and congressional investigators delved into the background of the Nationalist movement which has erupted into rioting violence twice in this capital in less than four years.

Although the Nationalists are not considered "Communists" some officials speculated that the Reds may have possible influenced the attack.

Dr. Antonio Fernos-Isern, Director of Rico's resident commission here who sits on the House anti-Communist committee, said flatly Communists must have been behind the plot. One of the assaultants, however, denied any Red connections.

One expert noted that the Communists have cooperated with the Nationalists in anti-American activity in Puerto Rico and that elements were laterally active in 1950 Nationalist attempt to assassinate President Truman.

This was speculation, however. Continued on Page Two

Snow, Bitter Cold Reaches Great Plains

By The Associated Press
A March cold wave knifed into the Great Plains today as the Ohio River Valley states dug out from a paralyzing snowstorm that took at least 18 lives.

The arctic air flowing down from northern Alberta, sent the mercury skidding to subzero levels in the Northern Plains and along the eastern slopes of the Rockies. The entire Midwest was expected to feel the sting.

Many schools still were closed and highway travel was impeded today after a heavy snowstorm tilted a deep blanket over northern Ohio and eastern Kentucky, eastern Tennessee.

Monsters Are Easy for Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Come with me into the monster factory. You'll find it on the second floor of an old building at Universal-International. The monster masters who run the joint are make up chief Bud Westmore and his assistant, Jack Gavin. These fellows can whip up a monster at the drop of a script, and that's what they've been doing lately.

I dropped in at the freak works and found Gavin putting the finishing touches on the latest creation, an ant man.

"This fellow is called a mutant," Gavin explained clinically. "He comes from the planet of Metaluma, where the Metalumans breed them for work purposes. They are half-man and half-ant, an interesting combination."

Interesting enough to scare you out of your wits if you met one in a dark alley. The mutant is a blue-green horror with vivid red veins lashed around its body. It has a two-foot-high head that appears to be an exposed, oversized brain. The arms, with viselike pincers, dangle down to his ankles and he has a shall-like back. He's a doll, all right.

This fellow makes his debut in "This Island Earth," and his keepers, the Metalumans, are also weird. They're more human-like, but they have high domes topped by white hair.

An assignment of this sort is routine for Westmore and Gavin. "We're the only studio equipped to handle big jobs like this," Westmore remarked. "We have our own big bake oven for setting the molds and everything."

Monsters don't come cheap. The mutant came to a bill of $6,500, which is not bad as monsters go. The boys' last assignment was whipping up a frog man to play the title role in "The Creature From Black Lagoon." He came to around $12,000.

"We sort of fell down on that one," Westmore admitted. "He wasn't frightening enough. The preview cards indicated that some people in the audience sympathized with him. The trouble was that they photographed the frog man in the bright sunlight. You can't do that with monsters. You have to keep them in the shadows."

Westmore needn't worry. The mutant will restore his reputation as a monstrosity maker.

Universal's penchant for horror goes back to the old days of Lon Chaney and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." The early talkies brought such hits as "Dracula" and "Frankenstein." From then on it was a makeup man's paradise. They had the Frankenstein monster meeting the Ape Man, Dracula meeting the Mummy and all of them meeting up with Abbott and Costello. Art gum and sponge rubber all over the place.

A salad plate with coffee was served to 13 members by the hostess and the co-hostess, Mrs. Henry Fenwick.

Carole Lavonne Huskey
Weds B. W. Hash

Miss Carole Lavonne Huskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Huskey of Blevins, became the bride of B. W. Hash, son of Mr. G. W. Hash and the late Mr. Hash of Stephens, in a ceremony performed at the Bruce Memorial Church in Blevins on Saturday afternoon, February 20, at three o'clock.

The Reverend Joe W. Hunter officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with greenery and floor baskets of white gladioli and mums. The white tapers, in wrought iron candelabra, were lighted by Gary Wallace Huskey, brother of the bride.

A program of nuptial music was presented by the organist, Mrs. M. A. Sewell.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, chose a dress of white wool with matching fitted jacket bound in white satin and trimmed with an ermine collar bordered in pearls. She wore a matching hat trimmed with pearls and white satin. The bride carried a white Bible topped with carnations, and a Stephanotis tied with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Charles William Gilbert of Hope, was matron of honor. She wore a frock of pink wool jersey with a yoke of embroidery sprinkled with sequins. Her accessories were navy, and her corsage was pink and white carnations.

Fred Davis Kelly of Stephens served as best man.

For travel Mrs. Hash was attired in a two piece dress of navy blue faille, with matching accessories. She pinned a corsage of white carnations at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to Natchez, Mississippi, the couple will be at home in El Dorado, where both are employed.

Out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. James A. Black, Miss Inez Huskey of Texarkana, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cassidy of Magnolia, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Howard Hightower, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Pierce of El Dorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter of Stephens.

Dulles Has a Rigid Day Every Day

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — John Foster Dulles, 66 last Friday, works like a man trying to keep two steeps ahead of a fire. In his case it's the Communist fire.

He has been secretary of state just over a year. In that time he has traveled 83,361 miles in pursuit of peace and American security, the equivalent of more than three times around the globe.

He's been all over Western Europe—including Paris three times, London twice, Bonn twice—and North Africa the Middle East as far west as Korea, as far east as India and New York five times.

His routine is: up to 7 a. m., home by 7 p. m., and to bed by midnight. His recreation is limited mostly to reading detective stories watching birds and swimming when he can.

He has a sharp sense of public relations reads four of five papers a day, has made national broadcast several times plus speeches before organizations. He's had more news conferences than any other Eisenhower Cabinet member.

He's had 24 of them at the State Department, and others outside Washington.

At 8:15 a. m. he reaches the office. At 9 he has a 15 minute conference with his undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith. At 9:15 he has a staff conference with Smith and his assistant secretaries.

At 10, a couple of days a week, he goes to the White House for a Cabinet meeting or a meeting of the National Security Council. During the day he must receive for enough diplomats or anyone else of enough importance to need his ear.

During his first year the State Department underwent its biggest shakeup in 20 years.

Besides being ultimately responsible for the handling of friends and foes everywhere, Dulles must deal with Congress, many times personal appearances to ask for money for his department or to explain or defend his handling of foreign affairs.

It hasn't been a completely blissful relationship. He's been criticized in the Capitol. He's had some struggles with Sen. McCarthy (RWIs).

He takes work home with him. Sometimes on Saturday afternoons — he works at the office Saturday mornings — or on Sunday he has a stenographer come out to his house for dictation.

He attends perhaps two diplomatic dinners a week besides having friends in for private dinners. And State Department people and government officials sometimes visit him at home for uninterrupted conferences.

This display of energy, according to those around him, is not new. He gave an example of it 12 days ago after battling Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov at the Big Four conference in Berlin.

That conference broke up Feb. 18. At 8 o'clock that night Dulles flew out of Berlin stopped at Bonn to talk with West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer, took off again at 11:30 p. m., stopped at Bermuda the next day for a swim in 37 degree water and arrived in Washington that night.

On that trip home, his aides say, he dictated to a secretary some of the report he made to the nation last Wednesday night. On Monday Tuesday and Wednesday last week he held session with congressional leaders to explain what had happened in Berlin. Somewhere in those three days, with help, he completed his report for Wednesday night.

Yesterday he left for Caracas for the Inter-American Conference and on April 26 is expected to go to Geneva for a conference with Britain France, Russia and Communist China on Korea and Indo China.

Besides the places mentioned earlier in this story in 1953 he went to Rome, The Hague Brussels Luxembourg Egypt Israel Jordan Syria, Lebanon, Iraq Saudi Arab India Turkey Greece Libya Princeton N. J. (for a speech), Japan, Boston (speech) St. Louis (twice for speeches) Denver for a conference with President Eisenhower Syracuse, N. Y. (speech) Cleveland (speech) Bermuda (for Big Three foreign ministers conference).

Official Reporter Named by Court

LITTLE ROCK — The Arkansas Supreme Court today announced the employment of Conley F. Byrd as its official reporter.

Byrd succeeds John T. Castle, who resigned last October after nearly 50 years as an employee of the court.

Byrd, a former resident of Evening Shade, graduated from the University of Arkansas law school in 1900 and was licensed as an attorney the same year.

He served for a time as assistant attorney for the State Revenue Department and recently has been practicing law at Pine Bluff with John Hooker.

His wife is the former Frances Harding of Redfield. The couple has two children.

After Beethoven became hard of hearing, he used to hear the sounds of the piano by holding a stick in his teeth and pressing it on the piano.
